City Fathers Pick Fiscal Agent For Recreation Bonds

Wednesday night the city commission approved a fiscal agent to handle the $200,000 recreation bond issue approved by the voters. The bond issue was given the nod to handle the recreation bond issue for the city. The firm of Sullivan, Nelson and Goss of West Palm Beach, a municipal bonding company, was given the nod to handle the recreation bond issue for the city of $17.50 per $1,000 bond. The company will proceed to calculate the bonds immediately.

An ordinance was passed for the setting of parking meters on certain streets in the negro business district, particularly SW 5th St. About 70 parking meters will be put into service.

The ordinance also provided for the extension of parking meter hours on Saturday night from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m. all over the city.

The council passed on second reading an ordinance and resolution concerning an area south and east of Main St. to be annexed to the city.

The council instructed the attorney, Claude Jones, to draw an ordinance clarifying beer and wine licenses in the city. This is necessary before the board can take action on a referendum recommending the planning board concerning the area from SW Ave. A to SW Ave. E between 6th and 8th Streets.

Also involved in the zoning hassle is an establishment on Ave. A which wants to sell wine along with beer already permitted.

Other Action
In other action the council approved the sum of $250 for Lakeshore Elementary School to help underwrite free school lunches and purchase playground equipment.

It was agreed that the Municipal Code Corporation of Tallahassee will consider the ordinance to bring them up to date.

A letter will be written to the Florida Power and Light Co. to set up procedure to have a street light placed near the Episcopal Church and also a study will be made about lighting on SW B Place.

The council talked to the proposal to reevaluate the city's real estate for tax purposes. The firm of Hunnicutt and Associates of St. Petersburg had offered to do the job for $10,000.

The council considered tentatively a plan to build another bridge over the Hillsborough canal somewhere between Main St. and the F. E. C. crossing.

Commissioner Ingram suggested a series of street lights along W. Lake Road between Main St. and Belle Glade Highway.

Eldridge recently announced that the "bottled turnpike" has been rebuffed the "Miami Sunshine State Parkway" and is to be opened early in 1957 at a savings of nearly $12 million less than originally estimated.

Livestock Market Holds One Sale Only Because Of Holiday Next Monday
Only the Wednesday sale at the Glades Livestock Market was held this week because of the Christmas holiday.

Above Normal Rain Help Reduce Water Shortage In Glades

Above normal rainfall during the last few weeks has helped to alleviate the possibility of a critical water shortage developing in southern Florida this winter, according to the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. L. A. Farrer, Chief of the Lake Regulations Unit, said that 1.5 inches of rain has fallen in the Lake Okechobee area since the first of December, about equaling the evaporation rate and causing the lake to remain near elevation 12.9 for the past few weeks.

"If the rainfall during the next five months is normal—about 12 inches—forecasts indicate that the lake will fall to about 12.0 feet above mean sea level by next May," Farrer said.

However, the recent rains will be only a temporary break in the normal dry season and the next few months could be unusually dry. If the rainfall is light, not exceeding four inches in the next five months, forecasts indicate the lake may fall to about elevation 10.5 feet next spring, and critical water shortages may occur," he added.

Bids Opened For Levee 6
Bids for construction of Levee 6 of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Project were opened last week in the Jacksonville office of the Corps of Engineers. Clemens Construction Company of West Palm Beach was the low bidder, with a bid of $1,071,100.

Bids were originally received on Levee 6 last September, but were all rejected at that time because of an error in bidding claimed by the low bidder. Clemens Construction Company was also the low bidder at that opening.

The levee will extend from Hillsboro Canal to the North New River Canal along the perimeter of the 1100 square mile agricultural area south of Lake Okechobee. Total length will be about 11 miles, consisting of two levees separated by a single earthenous borrow canal.

When the contract for Levee 6 construction is amended, all proposed construction work in the agricultural area perimeter levees will be either completed or under contract, except Levee 5 along Palm Beach-Broward County Line and the north portion of Levee 4 joining to Calogueshatchee River.

Crop Labor Needs Here Analyzed By Top State Agents

Representatives of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association and Florida State Employment Service met here Wednesday at the local office of the FSES to reevaluate the amount of additional labor required in this area to harvest crops planted from Jan. 1 through March 31.

General manager Dixon Page, assistant chief farm placement agent, representing growers along the east coast from Ft. Pierce to Homestead as well as the Glades.

Plans were formulated to bring in additional workers on direct order from growers. Leaders will be recruited from Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and South Carolina.

Lee L. Smith, manager of the Belle Glade office, said that needs between now and March 31 would exceed the local supply by about 400 more than are expected to be in the area normally.

Smith said that 40 workers arrived from Mississippi between Christmas and New Year's. An additional 50 workers are expected to arrive in mid-January.

Smith said that LeMaynoe Cash, director of information for the Florida Industrial Commission, was in Belle Glade this week to discuss the possibility of a critical water shortage developing in southern Florida this winter, according to the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Crimes And Accidents At Minimum In Glades For Holiday Weekend

The Christmas holiday weekend here passed as a relatively minor one with no major acts of violence reported by the local police.

Police Chief Charles Goodlett said only minor infractions of the law were observed and arrests compared to any other weekend period.

No traffic fatalities in the city limits this year will entitle the city of Belle Glade to another safe driving award from the National Safety Council, Goodlett said.

Florida Highway officials report no fatal accidents in the Glades over the holiday weekend. Only minor automobile accidents were reported.

Members of the board of examiners of plumbing are: C. L. Redman, Floyd E. Fessenden and W. L. Cunningham.

Members of the electrical examining board are: W. L. Cunningham, Sr., N. B. Willis and L. E. Will.

Constable Buford Prescott and police officials are searching for an escaped convict who broke for freedom about 9 a.m. Thursday while working on a road gang on Ave. E.

Prescott said the negro was Charles Walker, 27, arrested in Delray Beach recently. Walker's charge and length of sentence was not known.

Prescott said Walker, identified as 5 feet 3 inches tall, of slender build, slipped into a nearby cane field at Ave. E and SW 16th St. and eluded pursuing police.

Bloodhounds attempted to track the man; however, the dogs led the officers to the man's pants and shoes which had been discarded in the field.

New Auto Tags On Sale Here Jan. 3 Will Have Welcome Color Change

Florida's new license plates for 1956 will change colors and be white and blue for a welcome change. The plates go on sale Jan. 3. Deadline for 1956 plates will be Feb. 20.

The 1956 plates will have white letters on a blue field. Dealer tags will be blue letters on a white field.

Tags will be on sale here at the Chamber of Commerce from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

In Pahokee tags may be purchased from the city hall from 9:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

In case you've lost track, the blue and orange tags have been used over four years. The slogan, "The Sunshine State," first appeared on the tags in 1951.

Before the blue and orange came into existence, green and white tags were used one year. No one at the West Palm Beach license bureau recalls what color combination was used prior to that.

A luminous paint tried this year will be discontinued.

Police Report Pistol Incidents Here Dec. 24

Two incidents, involving persons with firearms, occurred Christmas Eve here, according to City Investigator V. R. Clark. Clark said a brawl in Mabel Hook and cafe on SW 6th St. resulted in a shooting.

Alton Miller, after participating in a fight there, returned to his home in the arm of the fracas. When he returned, the Hatcher woman drew a pistol and followed Miller for about a block and shot him in the arm.

Patrolman York brought the pair to the police station where she said she was watching Miller before the arrival of police.

She was fined $100 and costs or 30 days in jail and the gun was confiscated by the city on Tuesday.

City Commissioner Hints He May Step Down From Council

During the last session this year of the Belle Glade city council words flew across the council table in a heated hassle over the procedure of certain councilmen.

Councilman J. H. Livingston, in the heat of the late-hour debate, intimated that "pressure" might cause him to resign.

The discussion began when Livingston said the others indicated that "pressure" might cause him to resign.

Mayor Ashley then told the commissioner that the council should be run as a body not as individuals.

He hinted that the council might be divided into cliques, Livingston went on to say he had no quarrels with any city official or person; however, certain practices did not meet with his approval.

He referred specifically to policemen off duty in court who should be in uniform.

Livingston also referred to a request that the chief of police be in uniform while in the city car. Other points he said he wanted corrected concerned court procedures and bail bonds.

Mayor Walter Ashley said he wasn't sure such was the procedure in other courts and wondered if it should be the case here.

As the battle of words raged into a 30-minute battle in commission session, T. Ingram pounded the desk as he exclaimed: "Jesus, you can't run this commission the way you want it!"

He continued to verbally assault Livingston along the same general line of reasoning.

If you want to come to blows here, we'll come to blows," Ingram said, referring to methods rather than fistfights.

It was then that Livingston indicated that if outside pressure continued to mount over his procedure in the commission, he might resign. The other councilmen sat mute.

Livingston said he had considered resigning for sometime but had been talked out of it by the minority group. He said he has not been able to help people with their requests.

He then said that he announced that he would continue to do what he saw fit about city matters and that no amount of pressure could be brought to bear to cause him to change his mind.

NOTICE TO HOMESTEAD OWNERS

Due to the remodeling of the County Court House Building it has been necessary for me to arrange temporary offices at 711 North Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach. Lack of office space and parking facilities at this new address would create a hardship for you, and the other home owners, who annually file a renewal application on the same property in person.

For your convenience I am, therefore, mailing a post card form of application to each person who received a homestead exemption in 1955, unless I have information that the property has been sold or the owner moved his legal residence. If you still own and occupy as your homestead the same property on which you obtained the exemption for 1955, you should sign and mail to me the return portion of the card. However, if you have acquired a different home or are applying for the first time it will be necessary to call at the Assessor's Office in person.

New laws passed by the 1955 Legislature increased the exemption on household goods and personal effects used in the homes of permanent residents of Florida from $500 to $1,000. It is also provided that such persons need not file a return of this type of property in order to obtain the personal property exemption. The filing of your homestead application will be considered also as an application for the household goods exemption.

Returns must still be filed on the contents of rental property, business and farm properties, etc. If returns of such property are not filed the law requires the levy of a penalty assessment. Also returns of Intangible Personal Property must be filed to avoid a penalty assessment.

If further information is desired please call the Assessor's Office, Telephone West Palm Beach 2-1639.

On The . . . STREET CORNER

Pro golfer, Joe Ziemann, it's reported, made a hole-in-one at the local course on No. 3 green. That's his second such feat in his pro career. When asked how he did it, Joe replied, "I just stood on the tee, hit the ball and it rolled in the cup." Somehow we figured it was something like that.

New Year's Eve gets a rowdy boost with several parties planned for Saturday night. Post 20 of the American Legion here will have their usual starting at 9. They're almost sure a band will be found in time. Just in case, bring a kazoo.

Aftermath: The Belle Glade post office has all the appearances of a morgue after that Christmas rush. The personnel there have all lost that glazed look in their eyes. Mr. Farrell and the crew deserve a round of applause for their efficient work during the rush.

Saddest Christmas present we heard of was the loss of about 17 trees from the group sold by Sandbach Livingston on Ave. A. Someone celebrated that holiday with a hot Christmas tree. Police may check serial numbers. (7).

The last straw: The Street Department finally laid a cover over the holes and ruts on N. W. 24 St., and covered it with sand. Now people won't have to wade in water and mud up to their shoe tops. Instead they're wading in wet slush and sand. That's progress, isn't it?

In the first round of the contest Lake Worth beat Stuart 62-20.

In the Ram's encounter with the Clewiston five the score was 34-9 at halftime.

Leading scorers for the Rams were Johnny Thomas with 16 and John Paul Jones with 13. Hal White paced the losers with 14.

The Ram's record this year so far is 4-0 and they meet Seacrest again Jan. 3 there after the holiday tournament.

On Jan. 6 the Golden Rams meet Stuart at the local high school.

County March Of Dimes Gets Underway Jan. 3

Palm Beach County's March of Dimes fund campaigners are completing plans this week for a countywide drive set to get underway Jan. 3, to raise money for polio treatment and research.

The fund drive, which will continue throughout the month of January, is being directed by H. Elmo Robinson, West Palm Beach attorney, who has been named County March of Dimes chairman.

Robinson said his organization will include leaders in every community in the county—many of whom have taken part in previous fund campaigns.

The aim of his advisory committee, the chairman said, is to have a March of Dimes committee in every community in the county—a plan that has worked successfully in the past and one that has put Palm Beach County in one of the top spots in the state in the annual campaign. Last year Palm Beach County was sixth highest in Florida, raising more than $40,000. Robinson said he hoped the amount could be doubled this year so that additional funds would be available to meet any threat polio might make to the county's growing population.

Two major campaign events, Robinson said, will be a countywide Jan. 7 and the annual Mothers March set for Jan. 30. Also planned, he said, is a 49-hour television show in which hundreds of entertainers will take part.

A County March of Dimes headquarters has been opened in West Palm Beach at 320½ S. Olive Ave., and will operate daily throughout the campaign.

Priest Resigns As Vet Service Officer Jan. 1

Herbert Priest, veteran's service officer for the Glades, has resigned his position here to work as a field man for Pioneer Growers Co-op. The resignation becomes effective Jan. 1. Priest has held the position since October of 1954.

A replacement for Priest has been named. However, it has been requested that The Herald withhold his name pending his actual appointment to the post. The veterans' service office is a county function working in cooperation with the Veterans Administration.

CITY COMMISSIONER

Continued from page one he was intelligent enough to make decisions and that he still would be on the commission even though he might be in the minority. Mayor Ashley interjected that wheels of city government moved more slowly than other businesses.

Concluding the rowdy discussion, each councilman sought to clarify what he already had said with further explanation.

Mayor Ashley asked for a motion to close the session and debate stopped.

Striking innovations in new sleeping cars and coaches for streamlined trains will be presented by Seaboard Airline Railroad effective with their winter schedules.

Well Known Artist To Begin Courses Jan. 3

On January 3 at 2 p.m. a series of art courses for beginners and those who already have training will open under the well known artist, Wayne Seese, with the first lesson at the home of C. E. Riedel, 100 S. W. Ave.

B. Later the courses will continue in a public building.

Mr. Seese, who is an opening the Indian School near Jensen Beach, has an interesting and well-rounded background. Though a Florida resident, he received his first art training in Norway; later he was a student at Ringling's Art School in Sarasota, where he won a scholarship at Amagansett Art School on Long Island. During the war with the Marine Corps in the Pacific he painted native life in the area and pictures of the U. S. Marines in service.

Mr. Seese now has some of his work in the Fry Collection at Yale University and with other private collectors here and abroad. He is the art instructor in the adult evening classes at the Martin County high school. In November one of his students, Mrs. Harold Riedel, won the first award with a water-color landscape at a St. Lucie Countywide art show. She will be glad to give information regarding these classes—just telephone 2914. Registration can be made with her at any time or at the time of the lessons. Mr. Seese will be in Belle Glade most of the day next Tuesday and can be reached at the above phone.

Wood has long been recognized as a superior insulating material, but many persons are not sure exactly why it is superior. The reason, according to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, is that the structure of wood is comprised of myriad cells containing dead air spaces which retard passage of heat and cold.
